

O	S	C	A	R
Outragous Name Dropping	Same Old, Same Old	Colors of Dresses	Audience Shots	Regulation Thank You's
Matt Damon	The other nominees were also deserving of this award	Light Green	Robert Downey Jr.	The other nominees in this category
George Clooney	I couldn't have done this without a great script	Flowers (multi)	Liam Neeson	The Studio
Peter Jackson	Thank you for believing in me when no one else did	FREE SPACE (BLACK)	John Travolta	The other actors in the film
Maggie Gyllenhaal	Oh my god!	Too sparkly to tell	Matt Damon	The people or persons on whom this story is based
Anna Kendrick	This is so heavy	Aqua	Nicole Kidman	My Spouse

How to Play Oscar Bingo:

- Mark off a box each time you see someone ON STAGE (except for the “audience shots” category) who says, does, or wears what is in the box.
- “Regulation Thank You's” must come during an acceptance speech.
- When you get five across, down or diagonal, shout “Oscar!” (or “Bingo”) Collect a fabulous prize, or lord it over your friends.
- If you want to keep playing, just fill in all your boxes.
- Bend or break the rules often. Don't sweat it. It is only a game, and kind of a lame one at that.
- This sheet is good only for 2010, since the Oscars change every year.
- Quotes can be a close approximation – they don't need to use exact words

O	S	C	A	R
Outragous Name Dropping	Same Old, Same Old	Colors of Dresses	Audience Shots	Regulation Thank You's
Jeff Bridges	This is so heavy	Beige	George Clooney	The other nominees in this category
Jason Reitman	I can't believe this	Yellow	Sandra Bullock	The Director
Joel Coen and Ethan Coen	Reminds us of Chile	FREE SPACE (BLACK)	Miley Cyrus	The Studio
Jon Landau	Oh my god!	White	Colin Firth	My Children
Kathryn Bigelow	Thank you! Thank you! (repeats self)	Red	Matt Damon	The people or persons on whom this story is based

How to Play Oscar Bingo:

- Mark off a box each time you see someone ON STAGE (except for the “audience shots” category) who says, does, or wears what is in the box.
- “Regulation Thank You’s” must come during an acceptance speech.
- When you get five across, down or diagonal, shout “Oscar!” (or “Bingo”) Collect a fabulous prize, or lord it over your friends
- If you want to keep playing, just fill in all your boxes.
- Bend or break the rules often. Don’t sweat it. It is only a game, and kind of a lame one at that.
- This sheet is good only for 2010, since the Oscars change every year.
- Quotes can be a close approximation – they don’t need to use exact words

O	S	C	A	R
Outragous Name Dropping	Same Old, Same Old	Colors of Dresses	Audience Shots	Regulation Thank You's
George Clooney	Dancing	Blue	Jack Nicholson	The Writers
James Cameron	Laughing	Too sparkly to tell	Sandra Bullock	The other actors in the film
Morgan Freeman	I've worked so hard	FREE SPACE (BLACK)	Jake Gyllenhaal	My one true love
Alec Baldwin	Says something about the war	Dark Green	Kathy Bates	My pets
Christopher Plummer	Tears (cries)	Aqua	Morgan Freeman	My Agent

How to Play Oscar Bingo:

- Mark off a box each time you see someone ON STAGE (except for the “audience shots” category) who says, does, or wears what is in the box.
- “Regulation Thank You's” must come during an acceptance speech.
- When you get five across, down or diagonal, shout “Oscar!” (or “Bingo”) Collect a fabulous prize, or lord it over your friends
- If you want to keep playing, just fill in all your boxes.
- Bend or break the rules often. Don't sweat it. It is only a game, and kind of a lame one at that.
- This sheet is good only for 2010, since the Oscars change every year.
- Quotes can be a close approximation – they don't need to use exact words

O	S	C	A	R
Outragous Name Dropping	Same Old, Same Old	Colors of Dresses	Audience Shots	Regulation Thank Yous
Matt Damon	Laughing	Flowered (multi)	Morgan Freeman	My Spouse
Woody Harrelson	Dancing	Light Green	Stanley Tucci	My Agent
Stanley Tucci	Tells kids to go to bed	FREE SPACE (BLACK)	Charlize Theron	My teachers
Helen Mirren	Kisses statue	Pink	Robert Downey Jr.	My pets
Gabourey Sidibe	Reminds us of Haiti	Red	Lauren Bacall	The lighting designer

How to Play Oscar Bingo:

- Mark off a box each time you see someone ON STAGE (except for the “audience shots” category) who says, does, or wears what is in the box.
- “Regulation Thank Yous” must come during an acceptance speech.
- When you get five across, down or diagonal, shout “Oscar!” (or “Bingo”) Collect a fabulous prize, or lord it over your friends
- If you want to keep playing, just fill in all your boxes.
- Bend or break the rules often. Don’t sweat it. It is only a game, and kind of a lame one at that.
- This sheet is good only for 2010, since the Oscars change every year.
- Quotes can be a close approximation – they don’t need to use exact words

O	S	C	A	R
Outragous Name Dropping	Same Old, Same Old	Colors of Dresses	Audience Shots	Regulation Thank You
Meryl Streep	Closes eyes and hugs statue	Too sparkly to tell	Will Smith	The other nominees in this category
Penélope Cruz	Reminds us of Haiti	Dark Green	Liam Neeson	The Director
Peter Jackson	This is more than I ever dreamed could happen to me	FREE SPACE (BLACK)	Goldie Hawn	The Studio
Jon Stewart	I want to dedicate this to someone else	Aqua	Nicole Kidman	My Children
Maggie Gyllenhaal	Tears (cries)	Flowers (multi)	Anne Hathaway	The people or persons on whom this story is based

How to Play Oscar Bingo:

- Mark off a box each time you see someone ON STAGE (except for the “audience shots” category) who says, does, or wears what is in the box.
- “Regulation Thank Yous” must come during an acceptance speech.
- When you get five across, down or diagonal, shout “Oscar!” (or “Bingo”)
- If you want to keep playing, just fill in all your boxes.
- Bend or break the rules often. Don’t sweat it. It is only a game, and kind of a lame one at that.
- This sheet is good only for 2010, since the Oscars change every year.
- Quotes can be a close approximation – they don’t need to use exact words

O	S	C	A	R
Outragous Name Dropping	Same Old, Same Old	Colors of Dresses	Audience Shots	Regulation Thank You's
Sandra Bullock	This is so heavy	Aqua	Matt Damon	The Producer
Jonas Rivera	I can't believe this	Light Green	Mo'Nique	My Spouse
Lee Daniels	Reminds us of Chile	FREE SPACE (BLACK)	Kate Winslet	My Agent
Steve Martin	Oh my god!	Red	Zac Efron	My teachers
Pete Docter	Oh, thank you! Thank you! (repeats self)	Yellow	Taylor Lautner	My pets

How to Play Oscar Bingo:

- Mark off a box each time you see someone ON STAGE (except for the “audience shots” category) who says, does, or wears what is in the box.
- “Regulation Thank You's” must come during an acceptance speech.
- When you get five across, down or diagonal, shout “Oscar!” (or “Bingo”) Collect a fabulous prize, or lord it over your friends
- If you want to keep playing, just fill in all your boxes.
- Bend or break the rules often. Don't sweat it. It is only a game, and kind of a lame one at that.
- This sheet is good only for 2010, since the Oscars change every year.
- Quotes can be a close approximation – they don't need to use exact words

O	S	C	A	R
Outragous Name Dropping	Same Old, Same Old	Colors of Dresses	Audience Shots	Regulation Thank Yous
Mo'Nique	In your face, people who told me I'd never make it!	Red	Barbra Streisand	The Writers
Wes Anderson	I couldn't have done this without a great script	White	John Travolta	The other actors in the film
Gil Netter	My co-stars/cast should all be standing up here with me	FREE SPACE (BLACK)	Samuel L. Jackson	My one true love
Anna Kendrick	Thank you for believing in me when no one else did	Pink	Queen Latifah	The Academy
Lee Daniels	Tears (cries)	Light Green	Steve Carell	My Parents

How to Play Oscar Bingo:

- Mark off a box each time you see someone ON STAGE (except for the “audience shots” category) who says, does, or wears what is in the box.
- “Regulation Thank Yous” must come during an acceptance speech.
- When you get five across, down or diagonal, shout “Oscar!” (or “Bingo”) Collect a fabulous prize, or lord it over your friends
- If you want to keep playing, just fill in all your boxes.
- Bend or break the rules often. Don't sweat it. It is only a game, and kind of a lame one at that.
- This sheet is good only for 2010, since the Oscars change every year.
- Quotes can be a close approximation – they don't need to use exact words

O	S	C	A	R
Outragous Name Dropping	Same Old, Same Old	Colors of Dresses	Audience Shots	Regulation Thank You
Lee Daniels	Laughing	Beige	Ben Stiller	The lighting designer
Harvey Weinstein	This is more than I ever dreamed could happen to me	Blue	Sean Penn	The other nominees in this category
Kathryn Bigelow	Tells kids to go to bed	FREE SPACE (BLACK)	George Clooney	The Director
Jon Landau	Kisses prestenter	Dark Green	Sandra Bullock	The Studio
Joel Coen and Ethan Coen	Closes eyes and hugs statue	Flowers (multi)	Miley Cyrus	My Children

How to Play Oscar Bingo:

- Mark off a box each time you see someone ON STAGE (except for the “audience shots” category) who says, does, or wears what is in the box.
- “Regulation Thank You” must come during an acceptance speech.
- When you get five across, down or diagonal, shout “Oscar!” (or “Bingo”) Collect a fabulous prize, or lord it over your friends
- If you want to keep playing, just fill in all your boxes.
- Bend or break the rules often. Don’t sweat it. It is only a game, and kind of a lame one at that.
- This sheet is good only for 2010, since the Oscars change every year.
- Quotes can be a close approximation – they don’t need to use exact words

O	S	C	A	R
Outragous Name Dropping	Same Old, Same Old	Colors of Dresses	Audience Shots	Regulation Thank Yous
Jason Reitman	Closes eyes and hugs statue	Red	Colin Firth	My pets
Jeff Bridges	Reminds us of Haiti	Too sparkly to tell	Matt Damon	The Academy
George Clooney	I want to dedicate this to someone else	FREE SPACE (BLACK)	Sandra Bullock	My one true love
Christopher Plummer	In your face, people who told me I'd never make it!	White	Stanley Tucci	The Writers
Helen Mirren	Tears (cries)	Pink	Liam Neeson	The people or persons on whom this story is based

How to Play Oscar Bingo:

- Mark off a box each time you see someone ON STAGE (except for the “audience shots” category) who says, does, or wears what is in the box.
- “Regulation Thank Yous” must come during an acceptance speech.
- When you get five across, down or diagonal, shout “Oscar!” (or “Bingo”) Collect a fabulous prize, or lord it over your friends
- If you want to keep playing, just fill in all your boxes.
- Bend or break the rules often. Don’t sweat it. It is only a game, and kind of a lame one at that.
- This sheet is good only for 2010, since the Oscars change every year.
- Quotes can be a close approximation – they don’t need to use exact words

O	S	C	A	R
Outragous Name Dropping	Same Old, Same Old	Colors of Dresses	Audience Shots	Regulation Thank You
Penélope Cruz	I want to dedicate this to someone else	Light Green	Barbra Streisand	My Parents
Morgan Freeman	Kisses presenter	Red	Jack Nicholson	The Producer
Kathryn Bigelow	My co-stars/cast should all be standing up here with me	FREE SPACE (BLACK)	Jake Gyllenhaal	My Agent
Alec Baldwin	Reminds us of Chile	Beige	Sean Penn	My teachers
Wes Anderson	In your face, people who told me I'd never make it!	Flowers (multi)	Kathy Bates	The lighting designer

How to Play Oscar Bingo:

- Mark off a box each time you see someone ON STAGE (except for the “audience shots” category) who says, does, or wears what is in the box.
- “Regulation Thank You” must come during an acceptance speech.
- When you get five across, down or diagonal, shout “Oscar!” (or “Bingo”) Collect a fabulous prize, or lord it over your friends
- If you want to keep playing, just fill in all your boxes.
- Bend or break the rules often. Don’t sweat it. It is only a game, and kind of a lame one at that.
- This sheet is good only for 2010, since the Oscars change every year.
- Quotes can be a close approximation – they don’t need to use exact words